NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION

TO: ALL PARTIES AND THEIR ATTORNEYS OF RECORD

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that at 1:00 p.m. on January 13, 2015, or as soon as the matter may be heard by the Honorable Sandra B. Armstrong, United States District Court, located at 1301 Clay Street, Oakland, CA 94612, Plaintiffs and Class Counsel will and hereby do move the Court pursuant to Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure for an order awarding fees and costs to Class Counsel and service awards to representative plaintiffs.

This motion is based on the points and authorities cited in the accompanying memorandum, the contemporaneously-filed Declarations of Class Counsel, the Declarations of Representative Plaintiffs, the May 15, 2014, Declaration of Thomas E. Loeser in support of Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement, the arguments of Class Counsel; and all files, records and proceedings in this matter.

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiffs Mauder and Alice Chao, Degeneso and Glorina Palugod, and Maritza Pinel (“Plaintiffs”) respectfully move this Court for an order granting: (1) attorneys’ fees in the amount of $1,575,000.00, representing thirty percent (30%) of the $5.25 million non-reversionary Gross Settlement Fund that Defendant Aurora Loan Services has agreed to pay to resolve the claims against it in this litigation; (2) reimbursement of $185,883 in expenses that Class Counsel incurred in successfully prosecuting the claims in this action; (3) a maximum of $85,000 in claims administration fees and costs to Gilardi & Co., the Court-appointed Claims Administrator, pursuant to the Court’s Preliminary Approval Order; and (4) service awards in the amount of $7,500 per Class Representative Plaintiff. Therefore, the overall settlement distribution proposed in this motion is as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Item, Amount, Percentage. Rows include Gross Settlement Fund, Attorneys’ Fees, Attorneys’ Expenses, Service Awards, Settlement Administration, and Net Distribution to the Class.

II. SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

The proposed distribution set forth above is fair and reasonable and should be approved. The undersigned law firms – Hagens Berman Sobol Shapiro LLP (“HB”), Law Office of Andrew Oldham (“Oldham”), Abtahi Thigpen LLP (“Abtahi”), and Richardson, Patrick, Westbrook & Brickman, LLC (“RPWB”) (collectively, “Class Counsel”) – have litigated this Case tenaciously for over four years, fronting all costs and working on a contingency basis against the effectively boundless resources of what was the Lehman Brothers empire. At every stage of this litigation, Aurora – through nationally recognized class action defense counsel – vigorously contested Plaintiffs’ claims, Plaintiffs’ discovery requests, and Plaintiffs’ efforts to certify their claims as a class action. However, Class Counsel persevered and expended thousands of hours prosecuting this case, including reviewing over eight million pages of documents; preparing for and taking or defending approximately a dozen depositions; and preparing and submitting voluminous filings in opposition to four different dispositive motions, and in support of two motions for class

1 certification, among other countless discovery disputes and filings. See Declaration of Thomas E.
2 Loeser in Support of Plaintiffs' Motion For Attorneys' Fees and Service Awards ("11/14/14 Loeser
3 Decl."), ¶ 8. Only as a result of these considerable efforts, has Aurora agreed to a class action
4 settlement that will provide substantial monetary relief to the Settlement Class.<sup>2</sup>

5 Based on these considerable efforts, the substantial risks assumed by Class Counsel, and the 6 excellent results obtained, the requested fee award is reasonable and appropriate. Indeed, the 7 requested 30% fee is substantially less than Class Counsel's total lodestar, for a fractional 8 multiplier of .65, which further validates the reasonableness of the fee request.<sup>3</sup>

9 Class Counsel also incurred substantial costs in prosecuting this litigation, including for 10 consulting experts; deposition reporting and transcripts; travel; and litigation support vendors. The 11 single largest driver of litigation expenses was the over $144,000 spent by Class Counsel on storing 12 and making available for review the eight million pages of electronic documents that Aurora 13 produced in discovery. Class Counsel's request for reimbursement of $185,883 for expenses is 14 fully supported by applicable law. Further, the Claims Administrator estimates that its fees and 15 costs related to settlement administration are $76,000.00<sup>4</sup> and, in any event, will not exceed 16 $85,000.00, which is reasonable and should be approved.

17 Finally, the $7,500.00 service awards requested for the Named Plaintiffs are reasonable in 18 light of the benefit afforded to the Settlement Classes, the time and effort these individuals 19 expended in furtherance of the litigation, the personal and emotional toll that the aggressive 20 defense of the case by Aurora took on them personally, and the risks they endured to vindicate not 21 only their rights, but the rights of all absent Class members. See Wren v. RGIS Inventory 22 Specialists, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 38667, at *108-109 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 1, 2011).

23 _____
24 <sup>2</sup> The Settlement creates a non-reversionary common fund of $5,250,000 for the benefit of the 25 Class. Importantly, Aurora effectively no longer exists. All of its assets have been sold and the 26 proceeds paid in the Lehman Bros. bankruptcy estate. The only employees at Aurora are tasked 27 with winding it down. This is the only case known to Class Counsel, of hundreds that were filed 28 against Aurora concerning its loan servicing, that Aurora has agreed to settle on a class-wide basis.

<sup>3</sup> This fractional lodestar multiplier even follows an across-the-board reduction of Class Counsel's lodestar by 20% at each firm to account for the mere possibility of duplication of effort by the firms.

members, and any additional fees and expenses incurred will be submitted to the Court for approval.

1 For these reasons and as set forth in detail below, Plaintiffs respectfully submit that the 2 requested attorneys' fees and expenses, settlement administration expenses, and service awards are 3 fair and reasonable under applicable legal standards, and should be granted by this Court.

4 III. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

5 Plaintiffs filed separate class action complaints in August 2010 (No. 10-cv-3118 (N.D. Cal.)
6 and No. 10-cv-3383 (N.D. Cal.)). By Orders dated August 30, and September 13, 2011, the Court
7 largely denied motions to dismiss in the separate cases. Plaintiffs thereafter filed a consolidated 8 complaint incorporating the claims upheld by the Court in the original separate class actions. A 9 Second Consolidated Amended Complaint ("SCAC") was filed on October 4, 2012, and is the 10 operative complaint in this Action. See May 15, 2014, Declaration of Thomas E. Loeser in Support 11 of Plaintiffs' Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement ("5/15/14 12 Loeser Decl."), ¶ 6.

13 The SCAC asserts claims against Aurora for (1) Rescission and Restitution (based on 14 fraudulent inducement); (2) Rescission and Restitution (based on failure of consideration); 15 (3) Breach of Contract; (4) Breach of the Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing; 16 (5) Unjust Enrichment; (6) Unfair Debt Collection Practices ("Rosenthal Act"), CAL. CIV. CODE
17 §§ 1788, et seq.; and (7) the California Unfair Competition Law ("UCL"), CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE
18 §§ 17200, et seq. Among other things, Plaintiffs alleged that Aurora's Workout Agreements 19 fraudulently induced Plaintiffs and the Settlement Class to make payments to Aurora under the false 20 hope that Aurora would provide an opportunity for Settlement Class Members to cure the arrearages 21 on their mortgage loans with Aurora.

22 The case was vigorously litigated for over four years. The Named Plaintiffs were each 23 deposed and produced extensive discovery. Aurora's Rule 30(b)(6) witnesses were deposed and 24 Aurora produced over eight million pages of electronic discovery, all of which was reviewed by 25 Plaintiffs. There were four separate Rule 12 motions, numerous discovery motions and disputes – 26 including an attempt by Aurora to depose Class Counsel – contested motions for leave to amend, 27 motions to strike, and class certification motions. There were innumerable telephonic meet and 28 confer sessions between the parties. 5/15/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 8; 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 8.

1 In discovery, Aurora: (a) responded to numerous written discovery requests made by 2 Plaintiffs and propounded extensive written discovery to Plaintiffs; (b) produced multiple versions of 3 extensive loan level data (the “Class Data”) to Plaintiffs concerning its customers who were sent 4 Workout Agreements during the Class Period (i.e., the Settlement Class Members); and (c) produced 5 Rule 30(b)(6) witnesses for deposition on certain key topics. 5/15/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 9.

6 In particular, the Class Data contained detailed information regarding, inter alia, Settlement 7 Class Members’ Workout Agreements with Aurora, including: (a) the date of Workout Agreements 8 sent to Settlement Class Members; (b) the amount of any payments made to Aurora under Workout 9 Agreements; (c) the amount of any payments made after the term of a Workout Agreement had 10 expired; (d) whether the borrower was given a HAMP trial plan or Aurora repayment plan after 11 completion of the Workout Agreement; and (d) whether the property underlying the loan associated 12 with a Workout Agreement was foreclosed, as well as additional data. 5/15/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 10.

13 Plaintiffs filed a renewed Motion for Class Certification, which the Court has held in 14 abeyance. On November 19, 2013, by order of Court, the Parties and their counsel participated in a 15 Settlement Conference before United States Magistrate Judge Nathaniel Cousins (the “Settlement 16 Conference Process”). In reaching the Settlement Agreement, Class Counsel cooperated with each 17 other and coordinated their efforts and resources to further the best interests of the Settlement Class 18 Members. 5/15/14 Loeser Decl., ¶¶ 11-12.

19 The Settlement Conference Process has continued to the present. The Parties did not reach an 20 agreement in the initial all-day mediation session with Magistrate Judge Cousins, but continued their 21 discussions thereafter. The Parties eventually reached an agreement in principle and, on December 22 20, 2013, executed a Memorandum of Understanding with respect to certain material terms. The 23 Parties executed a settlement agreement in mid-February, 2014, but thereafter, a revised data set 24 from Aurora required renegotiation of certain terms of the agreement. The Parties worked diligently 25 to reach a revised resolution in light of the revised data from Aurora. As a result of this Settlement 26 Conference Process, the analysis of the extensive discovery and revised Class Data produced by 27 Aurora, and subsequent negotiations between the Parties with respect to the terms and conditions of 28 this Agreement, the Parties agreed to settle this Action according to the terms of the Agreement

1 attached as Exhibit A to the 5/15/14 Loeser Decl.

2 Following the Court's preliminary approval of the Settlement Agreement, additional 3 cooperation of the parties was necessary to refine and fully understand the Class Data and to revise 4 the Class Notice in light of certain Class members having more than one Aurora loan. On 5 September 30, 2014, the Court approved the revised Class Notice, and on October 15, 2014, Class 6 Notice was mailed to 15,135 potential Class member addresses and 8,100 potential Class member 7 emails. See 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., Ex. B (Gilardi case report).

8 This was a vigorously litigated lawsuit. Class Counsel's investigation and the responses to 9 Aurora's vigorous defense of this lawsuit required extensive work by and assistance from Class 10 Representative Plaintiffs. See Declarations of G. Palugod, D. Palugod, A. Chao, M. Chao, and M.
11 Pinel, filed concurrently with this motion.

12 IV. TERMS OF SETTLEMENT

13 The Agreement resolves the claims of Plaintiffs and the Settlement Class Members relating 14 to Aurora's SFA practices and provides for substantial monetary relief that would not otherwise be 15 available. Because Aurora is no longer an operating entity and no longer services mortgage loans, 16 there was no benefit to obtaining injunctive relief on behalf of the Settlement Class Members. The 17 key terms of the Agreement are described in detail in Plaintiff's Unopposed Motion for Preliminary 18 Approval (Dkt. No. 218) and incorporated herein by reference. The Settlement Agreement is not 19 conditioned on the Court's approval of the requested fees, expenses or service awards in any 20 amount.

21 V. UPDATE ON NOTICE PROCESS

22 Following the Court's preliminary approval of the Agreement, on October 15, 2014, 23 Settlement Class Members were sent notice of the Settlement by first-class mail to their last-known 24 mailing address, as well as by email (where last known email addresses are available from Aurora or 25 obtained through searches by the Claims Administrator) in the form of the Notice of Settlement as 26 amended by the Court pursuant to the Order dated September 30, 2014. To date, Class Counsel has 27 responded to dozens of telephone and email questions from notice recipients to assist them in 28 understanding their options in response to the Class Notice. See 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 38. The

1 Claims Administrator has fielded 345 phone calls and responded to 65 information requests by 2 email. See 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 39 and Ex. B.

3 As of the filing of this motion, there have been no objections and 4 settlement opt-outs, out 4 of 15,135 Class Notices sent. See id.

5 VI. ARGUMENT

6 A. The Standard of Review

7 It is well settled that “a lawyer who recovers a common fund for the benefit of persons 8 other than himself or his client is entitled to a reasonable attorney’s fee from the fund as a whole.”
9 Boeing Co. v. Van Gemert, 444 U.S. 472, 478 (1980); see also Mills v. Elec. Auto-Lite Co., 396
10 U.S. 375, 393 (1970); Cent. R.R. & Banking Co. v. Pettus, 113 U.S. 116, 123 (1885). The purpose 11 of this doctrine is that “those who benefit from the creation of the fund should share the wealth 12 with the lawyers whose skill and effort helped create it.” In re Wash. Pub. Power Supply Sys. Secs.
13 Litig., 19 F.3d 1291, 1300 (9th Cir. 1994) (“WPPSS”). These principles are particularly important 14 in complex litigation, where private enforcement is a necessary component of legal compliance.
15 See, e.g., Pillsbury Co. v. Conboy, 459 U.S. 248, 262-63 (1983); Reiter v. Sonotone Corp., 442
16 U.S. 330, 331 (1979); Haw. v. Standard Oil Co. of Cal., 405 U.S. 251, 266 (1972); Perma Life 17 Mufflers, Inc. v. Int’l Parts Corp., 392 U.S. 134, 139 (1968). Fee awards in successful cases, such 18 as this one, encourage meritorious class actions, and thereby promote private enforcement of, and 19 compliance with, consumer laws.

20 In considering the amount of attorneys’ fees for class counsel where there is a common 21 fund, “courts have discretion to employ either the lodestar method or the percentage-of-recovery 22 method.” In re Bluetooth Headset Prods. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 942 (9th Cir. 2011). “[S]ince 23 the proper amount of fees is often open to dispute and the parties are compromising precisely to 24 avoid litigation, the [district] court need not inquire into the reasonableness of the fees at even the 25 high end with precisely the same level of scrutiny as when the fee amount is litigated.” Laguna v.
26 Coverall N. Am., Inc., 753 F.3d 918, 922 (9th Cir. 2014) (quoting Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 27 938, 966 (9th Cir. 2003)).

28 When using the percentage method, twenty-five percent (25%) is the “benchmark” fee award

1 in this Circuit, but this amount may be adjusted when “special circumstances” warrant a departure.
 2 In re Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 942. Factors that may be considered in making such a departure 3 include: (1) the result obtained; (2) the effort expended by counsel; (3) counsel’s experience; 4 (4) counsel’s skill; (5) the complexity of the issues; (6) the risks of non-payment assumed by 5 counsel; (7) the reaction of the class; (8) non-monetary or incidental benefits, including helping 6 similarly situated persons nationwide by clarifying certain laws; and (9) comparison with counsel’s 7 lodestar. See Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1048-50 (9th Cir. 2002); Dickerson v.
 8 Cable Commc’ns, Inc., 2013 WL 6178460, at *4 (D. Or. Nov. 25, 2013) (Simon, J.).<sup>5</sup>

9 Under either the percentage or the lodestar method, the court must exercise its discretion “to 10 achieve a reasonable result.” In re Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 942. Because reasonableness is the goal, 11 “mechanical or formulaic application of either method, where it yields an unreasonable result, can be 12 an abuse of discretion.” Fischel v. Equitable Life Assurance Soc’y of the U.S., 307 F.3d 997, 1007
 13 (9th Cir. 2002).

14 B. Thirty Percent of the Gross Settlement Fund to Class Counsel Is a Reasonable Fee
 15 Award in this Case

16 Here, each of the Vizcaino factors weigh in favor of granting approval of Plaintiffs’ 17 application for a five percent enhancement of the benchmark fee award to 30% of the Gross 18 Settlement Fund. Indeed, even a 30% fee award will not fully compensate Class Counsel for their 19 time, as their lodestar exceeds the amount of the requested fee by over 50%. Accordingly, the 20 requested fee amount is reasonable, appropriate, and well-justified, and should be approved.

21 1. Class Counsel Have Achieved an Outstanding Monetary Settlement

22 The results obtained support the requested fee. As noted in Plaintiffs’ Motion for 23 Preliminary Approval, the Settlement represents an excellent result for the Class. As a result of 24 Class Counsel’s efforts, Aurora has already paid into a common settlement fund totaling $5.25 25 million for the benefit of the Class. The amount of this fund represents 100% of the statutory 26 maximum recovery under Plaintiffs’ Rosenthal Act claim ($500,000), as well as a significant 27 _____

 28 <sup>5</sup> Indeed, in granting preliminary approval of the Settlement Agreement, the Court recognized the 25% benchmark and recognized that this may be a case where departure from the benchmark is warranted. See Dkt. No. 225 at 7:8-18.

1 percentage of the total payments made by Restitution Class members to Aurora during and 2 following the term of their SFAs (approximately $25 million). Moreover, this amount is non- 3 reversionary; any residual resulting from uncashed checks will not be returned to Aurora, but will 4 either be redistributed to Class members or will revert to a Court-approved cy pres recipient 5 depending on the remaining amount. Finally, it is a claims-paid settlement, meaning Class 6 members will automatically receive their checks, they are not required to return a claim form or 7 any other material to the Claims Administrator.<sup>6</sup>

8 It is important to note that Aurora is, at present, a defunct entity. Its entire loan servicing 9 portfolio has been sold to other loan servicers. Its website is no longer in operation. Its successor, 10 Aurora Commercial Corp., exists only to completing the wind down of Aurora's affairs.<sup>7</sup>

11 Taking account of the monetary recovery in the Settlement, as well as the litigation 12 achievements of Class Counsel, it is clear that Class Counsel have provided a significant benefit to 13 the Class. Given the results obtained and the amount of effort required to achieve that result, the 14 requested fee award is reasonable. See Laguna, 753 F.3d at 922 (affirming district court decision 15 to find attorneys' fee award to be fair, reasonable, and adequate because, in part, it was 16 "significantly below the lodestar amount...").

17 2. Class Counsel Has Expended Thousands of Hours Litigating On Behalf of the 18 Class

19 Class Counsel's effort also supports the requested fee. As noted above, see supra, Section 20 III, and in the 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., and the 5/15/2014 Loeser Decl., this case was vigorously 21 contested by Aurora, and Class Counsel expended extraordinary efforts to marshal the complex and 22 voluminous discovery and documentary evidence required to prove their claims on the merits, 23 defeat multiple and serial dispositive motions, and bring their motions for class certification.

24 To date, Class Counsel has spent more than 6,000 hours of attorney and staff time on this 25 case. See 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 20; Abtahi Decl., ¶ 16; Oldham Decl., ¶ 21; Tuck Decl., ¶ 19.
26 As discussed above, Class Counsel: (1) investigated Plaintiffs' claims and interviewed numerous

27 <sup>6</sup> Though they are permitted to submit proof that they made payments in addition to those set 28 forth in Aurora's records, i.e., to increase the amount they are entitled to under the Settlement if Aurora's records are incomplete.

1 witnesses who were affected by Aurora's SFA policies and practices; (2) drafted the complaints; 2 (3) responded to four motions to dismiss; (4) served and responded to discovery; (5) reviewed and 3 analyzed over eight million pages of documents produced by Auora; (6) took or defended nine 4 depositions; (7) filed discovery motions and engaged in extensive negotiations regarding the scope 5 of discovery; (8) defended an attempt to depose and disqualify Class Counsel; (9) engaged and 6 consulted leading damages and industry experts; (10) prepared and filed detailed motions for class 7 certification; (11) performed detailed damages calculations; (12) prepared for and attended 8 mediation sessions; (13) negotiated a comprehensive class action settlement with Aurora; (14) filed 9 a motion for preliminary approval of the Settlement; (15) coordinated mailing of the Settlement 10 Notice to the Settlement Class; (16) consulted with Plaintiffs throughout the litigation; and (17) 11 responded to inquiries from Settlement Class Members. See 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶¶ 8, 19; 12 Abtahi Decl., ¶¶ 7, 22; Oldham Decl., ¶¶ 6, 20; Tuck Decl., ¶¶ 6, 17. Class Counsel is fully 13 prepared to ensure that the case is brought to a conclusion following final approval, including 14 ensuring that settlement checks are sent out to Settlement Class Members.

15 The efforts undertaken by Class Counsel to obtain this Settlement on behalf of the 16 Settlement Class support the requested fee.

17 3. Class Counsel's Experience and Skill Supports the Requested Fee

18 Class Counsel's skill and experience also weigh in favor of granting the requested fee. As 19 detailed below, Class Counsel have substantial experience prosecuting large-scale complex class 20 actions, and have been leading advocates in litigation across the country against the nation's largest 21 banks. By leveraging their combined litigation expertise and resources, Class Counsel were able to 22 work together efficiently and cooperatively, and were able to successfully litigate against what was 23 once one of the most powerful financial institutions in the world (Lehman Bros.), which was 24 represented by a top defense firm.

25 Hagens Berman is a nationally recognized law firm specializing in complex class action 26 litigation on behalf of plaintiffs. (5/15/2014 Loeser Decl., Ex. C.) Hagens Berman has played 27 leading roles in major class action cases for approximately twenty years, resulting in recoveries 28 totaling many billions of dollars for the firm's clients and the classes it has represented. See id.

1 Specifically to this case, Hagens Berman has been actively involved in the successful prosecution 2 of class action lawsuits alleging abuses in the area of mortgage modifications by major financial 3 institutions throughout the country. See 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 6. For example, Hagens Berman 4 served as Co-Lead Counsel in a mortgage modification action against Wells Fargo, which recently 5 received final court approval of settlement and a complete recovery of damages under the 6 Rosenthal Act. See id. Hagens Berman is currently litigating another action in this District against 7 Wells Fargo concerning its HAMP mortgage modification practices. See id. Hagens Berman has 8 been appointed as lead counsel in multiple consumer cases and other litigation in a variety of 9 industries by numerous courts across the country, including in class action cases involving 10 mortgage lending. See id. The experience and skill of Class Counsel are set forth in detail in the 11 5/15/14 Loeser Decl., the 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., and the declarations (and exhibits) of Andrew 12 Oldham, Ali Abtahi, and Christopher Tuck, filed concurrently with this motion.

13 The experience of Class Counsel, and the skill they have shown in litigating this case (and 14 other mortgage-related cases), further supports the requested 30% fee award here.

15 4. Class Counsel Assumed Significant Risks in Light of the Complexity of the 16 Legal and Factual Issues in this Case

17 The requested fee award is even more reasonable considering the risks and complexity of 18 this litigation. See Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1048 (“Risk is a relevant circumstance” in applying the 19 percentage fund method); accord, Detroit v. Grinnell Corp., 495 F.2d 448, 470-71 (2d Cir. 1974)
20 (“[D]espite the most vigorous and competent of efforts, success is never guaranteed.”). Large-21 scale consumer cases of this type are, by their very nature, complicated and time-consuming. Here, 22 Class Counsel prosecuted this action without any assurance of payment for their services, litigating 23 this case on a wholly contingent basis in the face of significant risk. See 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., 24 ¶ 8.

25 In addition, Class Counsel overcame multiple attacks on the pleadings, and discovery 26 obstacles, and had undertaken to twice brief class certification motions before this Court, a rigorous 27 process that required significant legal, factual and expert analysis. There has been at all times the 28 real possibility of an unsuccessful outcome and no fee of any kind, despite the significant costs

1 advanced by Class Counsel on behalf of the Class. This risk was significantly heightened by the 2 closure of Aurora, the sale of all its assets, and the payment of Aurora's remaining liquidity into 3 the Lehmon Bros. bankruptcy estate. To Class Counsel's knowledge, this case is the first mortgage 4 modification class action for a California class where a class-wide settlement has been obtained.
 5 There were undoubtedly risks in proceeding with the litigation, and Class Counsel have hedged 6 against these risks by locking in substantial gains for Settlement Class Members. Accordingly, the 7 risk of non-payment and the complexity of the issues in this case further support Class Counsel's 8 requested fee.

9 5. The Reaction of The Class to Date Supports the Requested Fee

10 The Court-approved notice informed Settlement Class Members that Class Counsel would 11 seek an award of attorneys' fees up to 30% of the Gross Settlement Fund, plus expenses. See Dkt.
 12 No. 219-2 at 2. The notice also informed Settlement Class Members of their ability to object to the 13 fee and expense request.<sup>8</sup> Id. at 5. To date, however, there are no objections to Class Counsel's 14 request for attorneys' fees (although approximately 15,100 notices were mailed to Settlement Class 15 Members). (11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 39.) This is another factor for the Court's consideration, and 16 weighs heavily in favor of approving Class Counsel's fee request. See, e.g., Mark v. Valley Ins.
 17 Co., 2005 WL 1334374, at *2 (D. Or. May 31, 2005) (considering as factor on motion for final 18 approval the absence of objections by class members to settlement). The paucity of objections by 19 Class Members to Class Counsel's fee and expense request to date further supports finding that it is 20 reasonable.

21 6. Class Counsel's Lodestar Supports the Requested Fee

22 A comparison with Class Counsel's lodestar further demonstrates that the requested fee is 23 reasonable. See Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1050 ("the lodestar calculation can be helpful in suggesting 24 a higher percentage when litigation has been protracted"). The purpose of the lodestar cross-check 25 is as a tool to help assess whether special circumstances justify deviating from the benchmark fee 26 award. See id.; In re Bluetooth, 654 F. 3d at 942. The "cross-check calculation need entail neither

27 28 <sup>8</sup> This brief and supporting documentation are being filed prior to the objection deadline and will also be posted on the website established for the Settlement, in compliance with the Ninth Circuit's directive in In re Mercury Interactive Corp. Secs. Litig., 618 F.3d 988, 994-95 (9th Cir. 2010).

1 mathematical precision nor bean counting.... [courts] may rely on summaries submitted by the 2 attorneys and need not review actual billing records.” Covillo v. Specialty’s Café, 2014 U.S. Dist.
 3 LEXIS 29837, at *21-22 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 6, 2014) (quoting In re Rite Aid Corp. Secs. Litig., 396 F.
 4 3d 294, 306-07 (3d Cir. 2005)). Here, the cross-check shows that the 30% request will not result in 5 an unreasonable windfall fee regardless of any plausible adjustments to the lodestar. Specifically, 6 Class Counsels’ aggregate combined lodestar (after an across-the-board 20% reduction to account 7 for the possibility of duplication of effort across the four firms) is approximately $2.4 million to 8 date (not including time that remains to be spent through final approval and to work with the 9 Claims Administrator), broken down by firm as follows:

	Rate Range	Hours	Lodestar
Hagens Berman	$170-$900	2,228	$883,730
Andrew Oldham	$150 - $550	1,766	$689,288
Abtahi Thigpen	$375 - $550	1,639	$563,070
Richardson Patrick Westbrook & Brickman	$120 - $600	920	$274,695
Total	(avg.) $368	6,553	$2,410,783

14 See 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶¶ 16-34, Ex. A; Abtahi Decl., ¶¶ 13-21, Ex. B; Oldham Decl., ¶¶ 16-15 28, Ex. B; Tuck Decl., ¶¶ 14-27, Ex. B. Summary descriptions of the work performed by each 16 attorney and paralegal together with summaries of their backgrounds are provided in the 17 accompanying declarations of Class Counsel. See id.

18 Class Counsel’s lodestars are all based on routine, contemporaneous timekeeping. See id.
 19 Moreover, the above lodestar amounts are net amounts that reflect the exercise of billing 20 discretion, as each firm has written off time by timekeepers with de minimus billings to this case, 21 as well as additional time. And each firm has taken a 20% lodestar write-off to account for the 22 possibility of duplication of effort across the four firms. 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶¶ 19, 33; Abtahi 23 Decl., ¶ 21; Oldham Decl., ¶ 28; Tuck Decl., ¶ 27. Many of the timekeepers have had their hourly 24 rates approved in this and other district courts in connection with comparable fee applications, and 25 are within the range of rates normally and customarily charged by attorneys and paralegals of 26 similar qualifications and experience in cases of this kind. 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 21; Abtahi 27 Decl., ¶ 17; Oldham Decl., ¶ 22; Tuck Decl., ¶ 20.

1           The lodestar cross-check supports an enhancement to the benchmark fee award in this case
 2 because Class Counsel’s lodestar exceeds the requested fee and results in a multiplier substantially 3 less than 1, roughly 0.65. This fractional multiplier is far less than the typical range for successful 4 common fund cases like this. Multipliers of 1 to 4 are commonly found to be appropriate in 5 complex class action cases. See Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051 n.6 (finding that, in approximately 83 6 percent of the cases surveyed by the Court, the multiplier was between 1.0 and 4.0, with a “bare 7 majority ... 54% ... in the 1.5–3.0 range”). Accordingly, the fact that the lodestar cross-check 8 results in a multiplier that is far less than those typically awarded in common fund cases further 9 supports Class Counsel’s fee request as reasonable. See Cordy v. USS-POSCO Indus., 2014 WL 10 1724311, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 28, 2014) (approving fee award of 30% of common fund where 11 lodestar exceeded requested fee and lodestar cross-check resulted in a multiplier of .95).

12           7. Awards in Similar Cases Demonstrate that Class Counsel Seek a Reasonable 13           Fee Award

14           As described above, Class Counsel’s request for a 30% fee is reasonable under the 15 circumstances and is justified by the Vizcaino factors. Since establishing the 25% benchmark in 16 Paul, Johnson, Alston & Hunt v. Graulity, 886 F.2d 268, 272 (9th Cir. 1989), courts within the 17 Ninth Circuit have routinely awarded fees above this benchmark in various types of complex 18 litigation. See, e.g., In re Pac. Enters. Secs. Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 379 (9th Cir. 1995) (affirming fee 19 award equal to 33% of fund); Walsh v. Kindred Healthcare, 2013 WL 6623224, at *3 (N.D. Cal.
 20 Dec. 16, 2013) (awarding 30% of $8.25 million settlement fund in a consumer class action where 21 additional injunctive relief was obtained); In re TFT-LCD (Flat Panel) Antitrust Litig., 2013 WL 22 149692, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 14, 2013) (30%); Dennings v. Clearwire Corp., 2013 WL 1858797, at 7 awarded in similar cases,” and citing the “many cases in this circuit that have granted awards of 8 30% or more”).

9 VII. THE COURT SHOULD APPROVE REIMBURSEMENT OF 10 CLASS COUNSEL’S EXPENSES

11 Class Counsel seek reimbursement of their out-of-pocket litigation expenses, which they 12 advanced throughout the course of this litigation, in the amount of $185,883 to be paid from the 13 Gross Settlement Fund. These expenses are itemized and described in the accompanying Class 14 Counsel declarations, which affirm that they were reasonable and necessary to the litigation. See 15 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 35; Abtahi Decl., ¶ 22; Oldham Decl., ¶ 29; Tuck Decl., ¶ 28. The single 16 largest driver of these expenses was the over $144,000 spent on storing and making available for 17 review the over eight million pages of ESI discovery produced by Aurora. See 11/14/14 Loeser 18 Decl., ¶ 35. Other expenses include filing fees, travel costs, mediator fees, deposition fees, and 19 expert costs. See id.

20 These expenses have been reasonably and necessarily incurred and are recoverable from the 21 proceeds of the common fund.<sup>10</sup> See, e.g., Winger v. SI Mgmt., L.P., 301 F.3d 1115, 1120-21
 22 (9th Cir. 2002) (noting that “jurisdiction over a fund allows for the district court to spread the costs 23 of the litigation among the recipients of the common benefit”); Vincent v. Hughes Air West, Inc., 24 Jun. 10, 2005) (noting that more than 200 federal cases have awarded fees higher than 30%); 25 Hernandez v. Kovacevich “5” Farms, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 48605, at *25-31 (E.D. Cal. Sept. 30, 26 2005) (33.3% fee); Linney v. Cellular Alaska P’ship, 1997 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24300, at *20 (N.D.

 Cal. Jul. 18, 1997) (33.3% fee); In re Activision Secs. Litig., 723 F. Supp. 1373, 1379 (N.D. Cal.
 1989) (32.8% fee) (decided after Paul, Johnson, 886 F.2d 268).

27 <sup>10</sup> Insofar as litigation expenses may continue to accrue between now and final approval (i.e., 28 expenses associated with this motion, any responses thereto, and attendance at the final approval hearing), Class Counsel may submit a supplementary request updating their expenses. However, even though Class Counsel will undoubtedly spend numerous additional hours in administering the settlement after final approval, Class Counsel will not seek reimbursement for that additional time.

1 557 F.2d 759, 769 (9th Cir. 1977); In re Media Vision Tech. Secs. Litig., 913 F. Supp. 1362, 1366
2 (N.D. Cal. 1996) (“Reasonable costs and expenses incurred by an attorney who creates or preserves 3 a common fund are reimbursed proportionately by those class members who benefit by the 4 settlement.”).

5 The Settlement Notices that were mailed to members of the Settlement Class expressly 6 stated that Class Counsel would seek to recover expenses to be approved by the Court as well as 7 the fees and costs of the Claims Administrator. See Dkt. No. 219-2 at 2. As noted above, there are 8 currently no objections from Settlement Class Members to Class Counsel’s request for expenses 9 (out of approximately 15,132 who were sent a notice). See 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 39. This 10 further demonstrates that the request for expense reimbursement and costs of the claims 11 administration is reasonable. Accordingly, the Court should grant the expense reimbursement to 12 Class Counsel.

13 VIII. THE COURT SHOULD APPROVE THE FEES AND EXPENSES
14 OF THE CLAIMS ADMINISTRATOR

15 By this Motion, Class Counsel also seek approval of no more than $85,000.00 in claims 16 administration fees and costs incurred by the Claims Administrator to effectuate the Court-17 approved notice of this settlement and claims process. See 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶ 37. In its 18 Preliminary Approval Order, the Court approved Gillardi & Co., LLC as the Claims Administrator, 19 and approved the proposed notice plan as providing the “best notice practicable,” and “reasonably 20 designed to reach all individuals who would be bound by the Settlement.” Dkt. No. 225 at ¶ 8.
21 Since preliminary approval of the settlement, the Claims Administrator has followed the notice 22 plan as set forth in the Court’s order, and has incurred fees and costs in doing so.

23 The Claims Administrator’s fees and costs to date are $36,584.90. Declaration of Kenneth 24 Jue on Behalf of Claims Administrator at ¶ 6; Ex. A. These fees reflect the scope of services 25 requested to be performed in connection with the notice and claim process, including coordinating 26 and distributing approximately 15,135 class notices by U.S. Mail; processing address updates and 27 preparing for remailing of over 1,100 class notices returned as undeliverable; establishing a 28 settlement website where Settlement Class Members can review case documents and access claim

1 forms; processing returned claim forms; and establishing a toll free phone support center. Gilardi 2 & Co. estimates that future administrative costs (associated with processing disputes, opt-outs, and 3 objections, and telephone, email support and distribution services) will not exceed $48,415.10.<sup>11</sup> 4 Id. at ¶ 7.

5 The notice that was sent to approximately 15,135 Settlement Class Members advised that 6 the fees and costs of the Claims Administrator would be paid from Gross Settlement Fund, Dkt.
 7 No. 219-2 at 2, and to date, there have been no objections on that basis. See 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., 8 ¶ 39. The Court should approve the fees and costs of the Claims Administrator as reasonable and 9 necessary to effectuate the Settlement.

10 IX. THE PROPOSED SERVICE AWARDS TO THE CLASS REPRESENTATIVES
 11 ARE REASONABLE

12 The Agreement provides for service awards to the Class Representatives ($7,500) as 13 compensation for their services as Class Representatives. Class Representatives were active 14 participants in this contentious litigation for over four years. They had to search for and review their 15 own documents, as well as documents contained in Aurora's loan files that concerned their loans.
 16 They listened to and reviewed recordings of their own calls to Aurora and those made on their 17 behalf. They were deposed at length and contentiously. They attended the mediation session which 18 led to the Agreement, and were consulted throughout the litigation and settlement process. Class 19 Representatives were of substantial assistance to Class Counsel in prosecuting this action on behalf 20 of all of the Settlement Class Members. 5/15/14 Loeser Decl., ¶¶ 28-30. The Class Representative 21 Plaintiffs describe the work they did in prosecuting this action in their declarations filed with this 22 motion. See G. Palugod Decl., D. Palugod Decl., A. Chao Decl., M. Chao Decl., M. Pinel Decl.
 23 (collectively, the "Class Rep. Declarations"). The requested service awards are reasonable and 24 should be granted. See, e.g., Van Vranken v. Atl. Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294 (N.D. Cal. 1995).

25 The Ninth Circuit and other federal courts have repeatedly approved the award of service 26 payments to class representatives to recognize their time, efforts, and the risks they undertake on 27 behalf of a class. See, e.g., Rodriguez v. West Pub'g Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 958 (9th Cir. 2009)

28 <sup>11</sup> Class Counsel will provide the Court with an updated fees and expense number for the Claims Administrator at the final fairness hearing.

1 (service awards “are fairly typical in class action cases”); In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig., 213
2 F.3d 454, 463 (9th Cir. 2000); Glass v. UBS Fin. Servs., Inc., 2007 WL 221862, at *16-17 (N.D.
3 Cal. Jan. 26, 2007); Van Vranken, 901 F. Supp. at 300. Service awards are generally provided after 4 a settlement or verdict has been achieved. Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 959. Such awards are intended 5 to compensate class representatives for work done on behalf of the class, to make up for financial 6 or reputational risk undertaken in bringing the action, and to recognize their willingness to act as 7 private attorneys general. Id. at 958-959.

8 Under Staton, such awards should be evaluated using “relevant factors, includ[ing] the 9 actions the plaintiff has taken to protect the interests of the class, the degree to which the class has 10 benefited from those actions, ... the amount of time and effort the plaintiff expended in pursuing 11 the litigation ... and reasonabl[e] fear[s of] workplace retaliation.” Staton, 327 F.3d at 977 12 (internal quotation marks and citation omitted). District courts are required to scrutinize “all 13 incentive awards to determine whether they destroy the adequacy of the class representatives.”
14 Radcliffe v. Experian Info. Solutions, Inc., 715 F.3d 1157, 1164 (9th Cir. 2013). Here, the Class
15 Representatives satisfy the Ninth Circuit’s requirements for service awards. See also Van Vranken, 16 901 F. Supp. at 300 (approving $50,000 participation award for the representative Plaintiff).

17 The Class Representatives took very real steps to advance the interests of the Settlement 18 Class Members in this litigation. 5/15/14 Loeser Decl., ¶¶ 28-30; Class Rep. Declarations. They 19 searched their files and produced their documents and other information they had relating to their 20 claims against Aurora. See id. They were each deposed at length over a three-day period. See id.
21 They actively participated in the prosecution of the case, including reviewing pleadings and 22 documents concerning their loans and engaging in multiple telephone and email exchanges with 23 Class Counsel. Moreover, they took the extraordinary step of agreeing to serve as Class 24 Representatives, with all of the attendant duties, and by agreeing to put the interests of the Class 25 ahead of their own. See id. They were kept informed of developments in the case, and when 26 asked, they were always willing to review documents and filings related to the case and provide 27 their views and insights. They participated in the mediation and settlement process, including 28 personally attending the all-day mediation session with Judge Cousins. See id. As a result of their

1 continued efforts, the Settlement Class Members will benefit from substantial monetary relief.

2 This litigation would not have been possible without the Plaintiffs' involvement in bringing 3 their claims to the attention of Class Counsel and assisting throughout the litigation in their duties 4 as Class Representatives. See In re Cont'l Ill. Secs. Litig., 962 F.2d 566, 571 (7th Cir. 1992)
 5 (“Since without a named plaintiff there can be no class action, such compensation as may be 6 necessary to induce him to participate in the suit could be thought the equivalent of the lawyers’ 7 nonlegal but essential case-specific expenses, such as long-distance phone calls, which are 8 reimbursable.”).

9 Comparing the amount to which the Class has benefitted from the Plaintiffs' representation 10 to the amount of the proposed awards is a compelling argument in favor of approving the awards: 11 the $37,500.00 in total service awards requested represents less than one percent (0.7%) of the 12 common fund. Additionally, the requested service awards in this case are modest compared to the 13 awards granted in other complex litigation in this District and Circuit.<sup>12</sup>

14 The proposed service awards also do not implicate the concerns expressed by the Ninth 15 Circuit in Radcliffe v. Experian Info. Solutions, Inc., 715 F.3d 1157 (9th Cir. 2013). In Radcliffe, 16 evidence indicated that class counsel used “conditional incentive awards” to coerce support for the 17 settlement. See id. at 1164-65. Here, the Settlement Agreement did not provide for conditional 18 incentive awards. Class Counsel never used incentive awards to pressure class representatives to 19 accept the proposed settlement. See 11/14/14 Loeser Decl., ¶¶ 14-15; Oldham Decl., ¶¶ 14-15; 20 Abtahi Decl., ¶¶ 11-12; Tuck Decl., ¶¶ 11-13. On the contrary, Plaintiffs understood and agreed 21 that their duty was to represent the interests of the Class as a whole, and that their support for the Fargo & Co.*, No. 08-2670, Docket No. 315 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 29, 2011) (approving service awards of LEXIS 98244, at *5 (approving $26,000 award “for reimbursement of time and expenses incurred in representing the class”).

1 Settlement was in no way contingent on whether the Court chose to award them any 2 reimbursement for the time they invested in the lawsuit. See id.; See also A. Chao Decl., ¶¶ 24-25; 3 M. Chao Decl., ¶¶ 6-7; G. Palugod Decl., ¶¶ 25-26; D. Palugod Decl., ¶¶ 6-7; M. Pinel Decl., ¶¶ 4 24-25.

5 In addition, although the amount of the service awards was disclosed in the Notice, to date, 6 there are no objections from Settlement Class Members to the request for service awards. 11/14/14 7 Loeser Decl., ¶ 39. For all of these reasons, the Court should award the $7,500 service awards for 8 each Class Representative Plaintiff requested here.

9 X. CONCLUSION

10 For the reasons set forth above, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court award 11 (1) attorneys’ fees to Class Counsel in the amount of $1,575,000 (i.e., thirty percent of the 12 $5,250,000 Gross Settlement Fund); (2) reimbursement of $185,883 in expenses that Class Counsel 13 incurred in connection with the prosecution of this action; (3) up to $85,000 in claims 14 administration fees and costs to Gillardi & Co., LLC; and (4) service awards of $7,500 for each of 15 the Named Class Representative Plaintiffs.
